About Heckaman Homes

Heckaman Homes has been building quality systems built home components since its inception in 1969. The current management, Craftech Building Systems, Inc. acquired ownership in 1986. Still working from our original location in Nappanee, Indiana, Heckaman Homes takes great pride in providing a quality, well-built product throughout the Midwest and beyond. During the company's history, we have proudly been involved in more than 20,000 new home projects. That number is still counting!

Heckaman Homes has numerous standard floor plans to choose from along with the capabilities of providing personal customized features on any project. Heckaman Homes does not sell direct to the retail buyer. All details, pricing and any additional information will be directly available from your local independent builder of Heckaman Homes. An independent builder of Heckaman Homes will be able to co-ordinate and assist with all aspects needed to complete your new home project. Heckaman Homes is actually a sub-contractor to the builder/general contractor, on any project.

Everything built at our facility is inspected and approved at the state level during the course of construction. Building indoors allows for fewer delays, fewer weather related issues and cost overruns normally associated with site built construction. Using name brand materials allows Heckaman Homes to construct our portion of your new home the way it should be done, correctly. Giving all peace of mind that an investment made in a new home project using Heckaman Homes is the right one for you.

From 1969 through today, tomorrow, and beyond, a Heckaman Home is the best choice for your new home.
